

Crawford Technologies and Doceo Software Partner to Deliver Document Accessibility and Workflow Solutions Across Southern Europe

August 20, 2025, Toronto, ON – Crawford Technologies, a provider of innovative document solutions that streamline, improve and manage customer communications, expands the availability of its AccessibilityNow® platform and award-winning workflow technology by establishing a partnership with Doceo Software, a provider of digital object management and document lifecycle automation, headquartered in Spain. Under the agreement, Doceo will act as a value-added reseller (VAR) of Crawford Technologies' full suite of enterprise software and document accessibility solutions. The partnership strengthens Doceo's well-established document management solutions with new opportunities to provide clients in Spain, Portugal and Andorra with optimized workflow solutions that significantly reduce costs and improve productivity, while meeting the ever-increasing global standards of accessibility compliance.

"The integration of Crawford Technologies' AccessibilityNow document accessibility solution allows us to expand our service offerings and fully support the entire document lifecycle for our clients. This collaboration strengthens our mission to deliver document management that is more efficient, inclusive and aligned with today's digital standards," said Alex Brusi, CEO of Doceo Software.

With organizations in Europe under increasing pressure to comply with the European Accessibility Act (EAA) now in effect, Crawford Technologies' AccessibilityNow offers a comprehensive software suite that leverages artificial intelligence and automation to support the often complex processing requirements of high-volume transactional documents and static documents of all types. Implementing the full capabilities of AccessibilityNow, Doceo will be better equipped to help clients in banking, insurance, public sector and more to ensure compliance with EAA, mitigate the risks and costs of non-compliance and make certain that content is inclusive and accessible.

"Partnering with Doceo Software extends the reach of our AccessibilityNow platform into key European markets at a critical time. With the European Accessibility Act now in effect, organizations need proven solutions to meet compliance while creating inclusive experiences," said Ernie Crawford, president and CEO of Crawford Technologies. "I am excited that by partnering with Doceo we can help organizations of all sizes streamline workflows, reduce risk and deliver communications that are accessible to everyone."
